

The background of the cover is a deep blue with intricate, hand-drawn swirls in shades of light green and yellow. A large, prominent yellow swirl is centered in the upper half, while smaller green swirls are scattered throughout. The overall effect is dynamic and artistic.

XX. The Greatest Power In Man

This being true, we can readily understand why mortals are weak—they are weak simply because they have chosen weakness; but when they begin to choose power and greatness, they will positively become what they have chosen to become.

We all must admit that there is more in man than what is usually expressed in the average person. We may differ as to how much more, but we must agree that the more should be developed, expressed and applied in everybody. It is wrong, both to the individual and to the race, for any one to remain in the lesser when it is possible to attain the greater. It is right that we all should ascend to the higher, the greater and the better now. And we all can.
